

Rheumatology-Related Web Sites

Web sites with resources on a variety of topics and conditions related to rheumatology.

Arthritis Foundation

www.arthritis.org

The Web site for the Arthritis Foundation has all the basic information about the disease, plus links to information about juvenile arthritis.

Lupus Foundation of America

www.lupus.org

The Web site for the Lupus Foundation of America is a resource for all of your questions about Lupus.

Spondylitis Association of America

www.spondylitis.org

The Spondylitis Association of America provides information about complications, medications, research and exercise.

American Behçet's Disease Association

www.behcets.com

The American Behçet's Disease Association provides resources including basic information on treatments, research and what you can do to help others with the disease.

Myositis Association

www.myositis.org

The Myositis Association has information about treatments and research for families coping with Juvenile Myositis and related conditions.

Sjorgren's Syndrome Foundation

www.sjogrens.org

The Sjorgren's Syndrome Foundation Web site provides information about treatments, research and resources available for primary and secondary Sjögren's syndrome.

National Ankylosing Spondylitis Society of Britain

www.nass.co.uk

This Web site for the National Ankylosing Spondylitis Society of Britain provides new patients with Ankylosing Spondylitis with advice, answers to questions and information about how to lead a normal life with the disease.

To Learn More

- Rheumatology
206-987-2057
- Ask your child's healthcare provider
- www.seattlechildrens.org

Free Interpreter Services

- In the hospital, ask your child's nurse.
- From outside the hospital, call the toll-free Family
Interpreting Line 1-866-583-1527. Tell the interpreter the name or extension you need.
- For Deaf and hard of hearing callers 206-987-2280 (TTY)

Scleroderma Foundation

www.scleroderma.org

The Scleroderma Foundation Web site has information about advocacy, support groups and conferences.

International Scleroderma Network

www.sclero.org

This Web site, maintained by the International Scleroderma Network, provides facts about treatments, causes, current news and support groups.

University of Washington Orthopedics

www.orthop.washington.edu

The University of Washington's Orthopedics Web site has some information about arthritis and surgical interactions.

Pediatric Rheumatology International Trials Organization

www.printo.it

In this Web site you will find information on diseases and treatments for a variety of rheumatology diagnoses. This site is a collaboration between the Pediatric Rheumatology International Trials Organization and the Pediatric Rheumatology European Society.

Childhood Arthritis and Rheumatology Research Alliance

www.carragroup.org

This Web site provides information from the Childhood Arthritis and Rheumatology Research Alliance.

American College of Rheumatology

www.rheumatology.org

The American College of Rheumatology has a patient education tab as well as a listing of rheumatologists worldwide.