

Places to Stay

While your child is staying at Seattle Children's

This flyer describes some options for lodging while your child is staying at Seattle Children's Hospital.

Arrange for housing as soon as you find out that you're coming to Children's. Some accommodations and financial assistance can take several weeks to arrange.

Consider options you may have such as:

- Staying with friends and family in the area.
- Asking churches and community groups in your home community if they have suggestions for housing options in Seattle.
- Finding a way to leave your child's brothers and sisters at home – this might allow lower-cost housing options.

Staying at Seattle Children's

Bedside

Most patient rooms have a sleeper chair or couch where one parent or guardian can sleep at night. Staying bedside depends on the patient's condition, available space and safety.

Intensive Care Unit (ICU)

Each day a small number of sleeping rooms are assigned to parents with a child in the ICU. These rooms are assigned based on availability and family eligibility. Contact the ICU at 206-987-2040 for more information.

Trailer Hookups

Children's offers a few RV spots with electrical hookups for patient families. Contact Hospital Security to learn more at 206-987-2030.
