

Our pediatric orthopedic department just expanded by 618 bones.

The human body has 206 bones, and these doctors are familiar with every one. Meet the three newest additions to Seattle Children's Orthopedics and Sports Medicine Department: Dr. Carol Mowery, Dr. Mark Dales and Dr. Suzanne Steinman.

Each is a highly regarded specialist who has recently chosen to join Seattle Children's because of the hospital's outstanding staff, leading edge research and commitment to children and their families.

Seattle Children's now has the largest and most experienced practice of pediatric orthopedics in the region—with the expertise to handle everything from a straightforward fracture to highly complex surgery. Whether the patient is a toddler or a college athlete.

To learn more, visit seattlechildrens.org/orthopedics. And welcome, doctors. Thanks for making one of the best pediatric hospitals in the nation even better.

Seattle Children's HOSPITAL • RESEARCH • FOUNDATION

Hope. Care. Cure.™

www.seattlechildrens.org/orthopedics