GENERAL INFORMATION

Course Description

This conference will bring together professionals from the fields of maternal-fetal medicine and multi-specialty pediatric care to discuss the intricacies of the interface between these areas. It is designed to focus on a range of disciplines including: nursing, genetic counseling, perinatology, obstetrics, neonatology, pediatric specialty care and ultrasonography. Participants will update their knowledge regarding high risk perinatal care, issues surrounding effective prenatal consultation when faced with an impending fetal anomaly, and long-term outcomes for select pediatric conditions. Participants will also have the opportunity to observe and engage in dialogue around controversies and ethical dilemmas presented in the care of pregnancies complicated by fetal pathology.

Who Should Attend

- Pediatricians
- Family Physicians
- Genetic Counselors
- Nurses
- Physician Assistants
- Sonographers
