

Places to Stay

While your child is staying at Seattle Children's

Arrange for lodging as soon as you find out that you're coming to Children's.

Some accommodations and financial assistance can take several weeks to arrange.

Consider options you may have, such as:

- Staying with friends and family in the area.
 - Asking churches and community groups in your home community if they have suggestions for lodging options in Seattle.
 - Finding a way to leave your child's brothers and sisters at home. This may allow lower-cost lodging options.

Bedside

Most patient rooms have a sleeper chair or couch where one parent or guardian can sleep at night. Staying bedside depends on the patient's condition, available space and safety.

Intensive Care Unit (ICU)

Each day a small number of sleeping rooms are assigned to parents with a child in the ICU. These rooms are assigned based on availability and family eligibility. Call the ICU at 206-987-2041 for more information.
