

Douglas S. Diekema, MD, MPH

Douglas S. Diekema, MD, MPH, is the director of education for the Treuman Katz Center for Pediatric Bioethics. He is professor in the Division of Bioethics, Department of Pediatrics at the University of Washington School of Medicine and adjunct professor in the Departments of Bioethics & Humanities, Internal Medicine, and the Department of Health Services in the School of Public Health.

He is also attending physician in the Emergency Department at Seattle Children's. He has been a member of the Seattle Children's Hospital Ethics Committee since 1991, has served as an ethics consultant since 1993 and is chairperson of the Institutional Review Board (IRB). He is the former chair of the Committee on Bioethics of the American Academy of Pediatrics and is a member of the Ethics Committee of the American Board of Pediatrics. He was honored by the American Academy of Pediatrics as the 2014 recipient of the William G. Bartholome Award for Ethical Excellence.

Dr. Diekema is co-author of Christian Faith, Health, and Medical Practice and the author of numerous scholarly publications in medical ethics and pediatric emergency medicine. He is the editor of Clinical Ethics in Pediatrics: A Case-based Textbook, published by Cambridge University Press.