

Christopher Patin

Christopher Patin, CHPA (Certified Healthcare Protection Administrator) is the Regional Security Manager for Seattle Children's. He has worked for the organization since 2005, with 13 years in the Security department. He current is Vice President of both the Washington State Crime Prevention Association and the International Association for Healthcare Safety Security Northwest Region Chapters. He has been a sought after certified trainer in many disciplines for over ten years including de-escalation, diversity and inclusion, workplace violence prevention, and personal safety (self defense). He has provided countless trainings throughout the northwest region for law enforcement, security, schools, and many healthcare organizations.

Chris's primary focus is on providing strong support for the Environment of Care as a whole, while placing a strong emphasis on advocacy for all patients, families, and staff. This is done by embracing the cornerstone "Zero Incidents" philosophy of the Nationally Acclaimed Seattle Children's Security department lead by Security Director Jim Sawyer CHPA, CPP.
