

Rebecca Klein

Rebecca Klein just graduated from The Bush School and is planning to major in mathematics in college. She was born and raised in Seattle and lives with her parents and older sister. Along with her passion for math, she loves theatre; she both acted and stage managed productions at her high school.