

Toys and Play: 6- to 8-Year Olds

Children play from the moment they are born. Play is how they learn about themselves and their world. It is how they develop and practice the physical, thinking and social skills needed in life. These tips will help you choose toys and play activities for your child based on their age or stage of development. Think about sharing them with your child's other caregivers, too

6- to 8-year-olds:

- Enjoy large muscle activities like jump rope, bike riding, roller blading, ball games and hopscotch
- Also enjoy fine motor activities like drawing, braiding, cutting, jigsaw puzzles, weaving, wood work and simple sewing
- Make use of reading, writing and simple math in games and toys
- Enjoy nature and simple science
- Have an increased interest in friendship and belonging
- Prefer to play with same-sex friends
- Like riddles, jokes and using secret codes
- Play well with others and want to play fair
- Do not like to lose and may cheat to win
- May collect things (cards, dolls, etc)
- Like dramatic play and putting on shows
- May be ready for athletic and team sports
- May want to start lessons in music, dance, drawing or crafts
